

Gli autori

Ludovica Boi

Ludovica Boi is currently Research Fellow at the University of Verona, with a project on health and illness in Nietzsche's thought. In 2020 she has been Research Fellow at the Italian Institute for Philosophical Studies. She was awarded a DAAD fellowship, several IISF training grants, and is a member of the "Centro Studi Giorgio Colli", the Italian Society for the History of Religions (SISR), and the European Association of Religion (EuARE). Among her publications, various articles published in journals and collective volumes and the monograph Il mistero dionisiaco in Giorgio Colli. Linee per una interpretazione (Stamen, Rome 2020).

ludovica.boi@univr.it

Annalisa Caputo

Annalisa Caputo is Associate Professor in Theoretical Philosophy at the University of Bari and teaches Philosophical Hermeneutics and Teaching Philosophy. Founder and Editor in Chief of the International Journal of Philosophy «Logoi» (www.logoi.ph), she published monographs, essays, articles on Nietzsche, Heidegger, Ricoeur. In particular, on Nietzsche: The Untimely. From Nietzsche to us, «Logoi», III (7) 2017 (ed. by); Rethinking the Nietzschean Concept of 'Untimely' (ed. by) (Mimesis International, Milan 2017).

annalisa.caputo@uniba.it

Eleonora Caramelli

Eleonora Caramelli is Associate Professor of Aesthetics at the University of Bologna. Among her latest publications: edition and translation of Arthur Schopenhauer, Metafisica del bello (Aesthetica, Milan 2022); Hegel et le signe d'Abraham (L'Harmattan, Paris 2018). Together with Francesco Cattaneo, she edited a number of «Studi di Estetica» (1, 2022) devoted to Aesthetics and Translation.

eleonora.caramelli2@unibo.it

Francesco Cattaneo

Francesco Cattaneo is Associate Professor of Aesthetics at the University of Bologna. Among his latest publications: edition and translation of Richard Capobianco, La via dell'essere di Heidegger (Ortothes, Salerno 2023); La presenza degli dèi. Filosofia e mito in Friedrich Nietzsche e Walter F. Otto (Ortothes, Salerno 2019).

francesco.cattaneo4@unibo.it

Carlo Chiurco

Carlo Chiurco is Associate Professor of Ethics at the Verona University. His researches are focused on ethics, both applied and general (the relation between violence and the sacred, contemporary forms of spectacularizing the negative). He has published many articles and book chapters on the philosophy of the last Nietzsche, in particular the problem of the dynamics overseeing the rise and fall of civilizations. His latest publications include; Etica e sacro (Mimesis, Milan 2012); Europa trasfigurata. Per una filosofia della Potenza tra Nietzsche e Guardini (ETS, Pisa 2022); the edited volume Vivere l'incertezza (QuiEdit, Verona 2022).

carlo.chiurco@univr.it

Jesús Conill

Jesús Conill is Professor of Moral and Political Philosophy at the University of Valencia. Research at the Universities of München, Bonn, Frankfurt a. M., St. Gallen and Notre Dame. Member of the Research Seminar at the "Xavier Zubiri Foundation" and of "Etnor Foundation". Author of numerous articles on the main trends of the contemporary philosophy, especially Hermeneutics and Ethics, and of several books, among them: Ética hermenéutica (Tecnos, Madrid 2006), Intimidación corporal y persona humana (Tecnos, Madrid 2019), Nietzsche frente a Habermas. Genealogías de la razón (Tecnos, Madrid 2021).

jesus.conill@uv.es

Massimo Donà

Massimo Donà is a jazz musician and full professor of Theoretical Philosophy at the Faculty of Philosophy of the Vita-Salute San Raffaele University (Milan), where he is also director of the Master of Philosophy of Food and Wine. His research interests range from metaphysics to aesthetics, from the ontology of art to literature, but he has also frequently dealt with purely theological issues. Among his latest books: Tutto per nulla. La filosofia di William Shakespeare (Bompiani, Milan 2016); Una sola visione. La filosofia di Johann Wolfgang Goethe (Bompiani, Milan 2022); Di fantasmi, incantesimi e destino. Emanuele Severino ultimo calligrafo della verità (Inschibboleth, Rome 2023).

dona.massimo@hsr.it

Maria Cristina Fornari

Maria Cristina Fornari is Associate Professor at the University of Salento. She collaborated on the Italian edition of Nietzsche's Works and Letters. She is a member of several international research groups, including the team "Nietzsche et son temps" (CNRS). She is currently working on the Franco-German project "La bibliothèque de Nietzsche. Edition numérique et commentaire philosophique". Among her publications: La morale evolutiva del gregge. Nietzsche legge Spencer e Mill (ETS, Pisa 2006), Uma aventura de mais de um século: A história das edições de Nietzsche (Editora UNIFESP, São Paulo 2019), Becoming Artists of One's Own Life. Perfectionist Thinking in Friedrich Nietzsche, in Douglas Moggach, Nadine Mooren, and Michael Quante (eds.), Perfektionismus der Autonomie (Brill, Leiden 2020).

mariacristina.fornari@unisalento.it

Carlo Gentili

Carlo Gentili is professor emeritus at the University of Bologna. He cooperates with many reviews; among these: «Il Verri», «Studi di estetica», «Nietzscheforschung», «Estetica. Studi e Ricerche», «Nietzsche-Studien». In 2006 he became a member of the scientific committee of the «Nietzsche-Studien». Since 2009 he is a member of the «Friedrich-Nietzsche-Stiftung». His most recent publications include: Quid est veritas? Skeptische Implikationen von Ueber Wahrheit und Lüge im ausser-moralischen Sinne, «Nietzsche-Studien», 52 (2023); Hoffmanstahl e Nietzsche. Sulla menzogna del linguaggio, «Estetica. Studi e ricerche», 19 (2019); Introduzione a Nietzsche (Il Mulino, Bologna 2017).

carlo.gentili@unibo.it

Alberto Giacomelli

Alberto Giacomelli teaches Aesthetics at the University of Padua. He has conducted research activities in German and in Japan. His main research interests are aesthetics and German philosophy of the 19th and 20th centuries, with particular focus on the thought of Nietzsche, and forms of Sino-Japanese thought. He is the author of essays in national and international journals and volumes, and of the monographs Simbolica per tutti e per nessuno. Stile e figurazione nello Zarathustra di Nietzsche (Mimesis, Milan 2012); Tipi umani e figure dell'esistenza. Goethe, Nietzsche e Simmel per una filosofia delle forme di vita (Mimesis, Milan 2021).

alberto.giacomelli@unipd.it

Pietro Gori

Pietro Gori works as a Senior Researcher at the NOVA University Lisbon (Institute of Philosophy), where he also acts as invited lecturer for the chairs of Philosophy of Science and Philosophy of Knowledge. He is a member of the association "HyperNietzsche", the "Seminario Permanente Nietzscheano", and collaborator of the "Internationale Nietzscheforschungsgruppe Stuttgart". His academic expertise focuses especially on Modern and Contemporary Philosophy; History and Philosophy of Science; Epistemology and Philosophical Anthropology; an anti-foundationalist turn in philosophy (e.g. Friedrich Nietzsche, Ernst Mach and William James).

pgori@fcsh.unl.pt

Luca Lupo

Luca Lupo is Associate Professor of Moral Philosophy at the University of Calabria. His research interests and publications focus on Friedrich Nietzsche and the relationship between ethics and psychoanalysis. He is member of the "Seminario Permanente Nietzscheano" and of the Scientific Committee of the "HyperNietzsche Research Group". His most recent contributions include «To rub one's boots over with its victims fat». Conscious and Unconscious Violence, in Luís Aguiar de Sousa, Paolo Stellino (eds.), Violence and Nihilism (De Gruyter, Berlin-New York 2022); «Quando eravamo tutti laici». La Psychoanalysis militans di Theodor Reik, in Ettore Perrella, Moreno Manghi (eds.), La psicanalisi come arte liberale (Polimnia Digital Editions, Sacile 2023), and Forme ed etica del tempo in Nietzsche (Mimesis, Milan 2018).

luca.lupo@unical.it

Stefano Marino

Stefano Marino is Associate Professor of Aesthetics at the University of Bologna. His main research interests and research fields are philosophical hermeneutics, critical theory of society, neopragmatism and somaesthetics, philosophy of music, and aesthetics of fashion. He has authored various books, among them: Gadamer and the Limits of the Modern Techno-Scientific Civilization (P. Lang, Bern 2011), Aesthetics, Metaphysics, Language (Cambridge Scholars, Newcastle upon Tyne 2015), Le verità del non-vero (Mimesis, Milan 2019). He has co-edited several volumes and special issues of philosophical journals and has translated books of T.W. Adorno, H.-G. Gadamer, C. Korsmeyer and R. Shusterman.

stefano.marino4@unibo.it

Manfred Posani Löwenstein

Manfred Posani Löwenstein works for the archives of the Pontificia Università Gregoriana in Rome and for the Adelphi publishing house in Milan. He obtained his doctorate at the Scuola Normale in Pisa in 2015 with a thesis on Burckhardt and Nietzsche. His publications focus mainly on 19th century German philosophy and literature.

manfred.posani@gmail.com

Alessandro Stavru

Alessandro Stavru is a Professor of Ancient Philosophy at the University of Verona, Italy. His areas of interest include: Socrates, the Socratics, and the Socratic literature; Pythagoras and the Pythagoreans; Ancient and Modern Aesthetics; and the History of Classical Scholarship (esp. Walter F. Otto). He is an officer of the International Society for Socratic Studies. He has been the co-organizer of the Socratica-colloquiums (2005, 2008, 2012, 2018), and the Co-Editor of the Proceedings arising from them (2008, 2010, 2013). His last book deals with Socrates: A colloquio con Socrate. La cura di sé nel dialogo socratico (Marinotti, Milan 2023).

alessandro.stavru@univr.it

Werner Stegmaier

Werner Stegmaier was the founding director of the philosophy department at the University of Greifswald (Germany) after the collapse of the German Democratic Republic. He was editor-in-chief of the journal «Nietzsche-Studien» and published widely in Continental philosophy. Over decades of research, he developed the philosophy of orientation. Among his latest publications: Formen der philosophischen Schriften zur Einführung (Junius, Hamburg 2021); Orientierung und Ander(s)heit, together with Burkhard Liebsch (Meiner, Hamburg 2022); Nietzsche an Der Arbeit: Das Gewicht Seiner Nachgelassenen Aufzeichnungen Für Sein Philosophieren (De Gruyter, Berlin 2022).

stegmai@uni-greifswald.de

Paolo Stellino

Paolo Stellino is researcher at the Nova Institute of Philosophy (IFILNOVA) and invited professor at the Department of Philosophy, NOVA University of Lisbon. His main fields of interest are history of philosophy, ethics, and philosophy of film. He is the coordinator of the “Lisbon Nietzsche Group”. He is the author of the book Nietzsche and Dostoevsky: On the Verge of Nihilism (P. Lang, Bern 2015) and co-editor of several books, among which are Nietzsche et le relativisme (Ousia, Bruxelles 2019) and The Oxford Handbook of the Philosophy of Suicide (OUP, Oxford expected 2024).

paolo.stellino@fcsh.unl.pt

Vivetta Vivarelli

Vivetta Vivarelli has been Full Professor of German Literature at the University of Florence. Working at the intersection of philology, philosophy and literary studies, she is author of many articles and chapters on Nietzsche’s influence and on his reading of Goethe, Hölderlin, Emerson, Montaigne, Pascal, Galiani and Heine. Her main publications include: Il fiume rovinoso e gli argini. Hölderlin e Goethe leggono Orazio (ETS, Pisa 2001); a Translation with Introduction, Commentary, Notes and an Appendix of Texts and Letters of La nascita della tragedia (Einaudi, Turin 2009); Literarische Bilder und Vorbilder der Ewigen Wiederkunft (Quodlibet, Macerata 2019).

vivetta.vivarelli@unifi.it

Patrick Wotling

Patrick Wotling graduated at the École Normale Supérieure in Paris. He currently is Professor of Contemporary Philosophy at Reims University as well as director of the International Nietzsche Research Group (GIRN). He is the author of Nietzsche et le problème de la civilisation (PUF, Paris 1995, 2012), La pensée du sous-sol (Allia, Paris 1999, 2016), La philosophie de l'esprit libre. Introduction à Nietzsche (Flammarion, Paris 2008), Dictionnaire Nietzsche (with Céline Denat, Ellipses, Paris 2013), Nietzsche. La conquête d'une pensée (PUF, Paris 2022). He also translated several of Nietzsche's books.

patrick.wotling@gmail.com

Benedetta Zavatta

Benedetta Zavatta is associated Researcher of the equipe Nietzsche at ITEM (CNRS/ENS) in Paris. Her principal research interest is German philosophy of the 19th Century, with particular attention to Nietzsche and his sources. She has been Research Fellow at the Weimar Classics Foundation, Basel University, LMU Munich, the University of Oxford, the New University of Lisbon and Columbia University in NYC. She has also participated in several Research Projects funded by the European Union in the field of Digital Humanities ("HyperNietzsche", "Discovery", "Agora" among others).

zavattabenedetta@gmail.com